The tunic shirt and overdrapes—even though clinging in line—still with us as the new fall models in suit-dress show. These two early styles offer much to woman in all that is new from crown to heel. The braided yoke on the right is bettered one in the full blouse of hand work on the left. Long gloves, the touch of fur and the pumped foot all tell of woman's inconsistency. But one must admit that there's grace to that short skirt on both models. The cloth is the new Frost Glow tricotina.

Herbert Hoover Says Democracies Repel Autocracies at Our Meeting.

FOOD ADMINISTRATION CHIEF.

Urges Ratification on Ground That Peace Treaty Will Collapse Without League of Nations.

Herbert Hoover is so deeply concerned over the opposition to the League of Nations in the United States that he has let his feelings be interpreted at length on the radio. In a talk with the New York Times correspondent in Paris, the Food Administration Chief asserts that having joined the League idea to prevail America cannot abandon it. We cannot withdraw, he says, and leave Europe to chaos. "To abandon the League Covenant now means that the treaty itself will collapse."

Mr. Hoover's wide acquaintance with conditions both here and abroad, his reputation as an administrator, a man of great affairs who deals with facts, not theories, make his statement one of the most important contributions to the recent League discussions.

"There are one or two points in connection with the present treaty," said Mr. Hoover, "that need careful consideration by the American public. We need to direct the fact that we have for a century and a half been advocating democracy not only as a remedy for the internal ills of all society, but also as the only real safeguard against war. We have believed and proclaimed, in season and out, that a world in which there was a free expression and enforcement of the will of the majority was the real basis of government, was essential for the advancement of civilization, and that we have proved its enormous human benefits in our country."

American Ideas Have Prevailed. "We went into the war to destroy autocracy as a menace to our own and other democracies. If we had not done so the war every inch of Europe would have been an autocracy. We have agreed on the League of Nations as the only way to prevent the return of autocracy. In Germany, Austria, Hungary, and Italy, and in the Balkans, and in Greece, New Spain, and in being in Poland, Latvia, Lithuania, and in Czechoslovakia, Greater Poland, and even Germany and Austria have established democratic governments. Beyond these a host of small republics, such as Armenia, Georgia, Azerbaijan and others, have sprung up, and again as a result of this great world movement the constitutions of Spain, Rumania, and even England, have made a final ascent to complete franchise and democracy, although they still maintain a symbol of royalty."

"We have been the living spring for this last century and half from which these ideas have sprung, and we have triumphed. The world today, except for a comparatively few reactionary and communistic autocracies, is democratic, and we did it. "A man who takes a wife and blesses the world with several infants cannot go away and leave them on the claim that there was no legal marriage."

"These infant democracies all have political, social and economic problems involving their neighbors that are fraught with the most intense friction. There are no natural boundaries in Europe. Races are not compact; they blend at every border. They need railway communication and sea outlets through their neighbors' territory."

"Many of these states must for the next few years struggle almost for bare bones to maintain their very existence. Every one of them is going to do its best; to protect its own interests, even to the prejudice of its neighbors."

Governments Lack Experience. "We in America should realize that

TAFT COLLIGES LEAGUE PLAN

Puts It Into Plain Language Free From Technical Diplomatic Verbiage, in Response to Request.

MANY ARE CONFUSED BY PRESENT DEBATE

Danger That People Will Lose Sight of Basic Principles During Discussion of Complicated Details and Technicalities.

(By ex-President William H. Taft.)

The plan for a League of Nations is based on a few simple principles, which are not hard to understand when lifted out of the morass of technical discussion and freed from legal and diplomatic language. As the one authority best able to present these points without partisan bias, ex-President Taft has been asked to put the league idea into a few plain words for the benefit of millions of Americans who desire a better understanding of the plan but find themselves confused by the debate in the United States Senate. In response to this request he has written the following article.

Purpose of the League.

The chief purpose of the League of Nations is to keep the world in a state of peace. Another way of expressing it is to say that the league is designed to prevent wars.

We have just finished the war, which is the last battle of all that is known to man. But we have just finished the war, which is the last battle of all that is known to man. But we have just finished the war, which is the last battle of all that is known to man.

It is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan. It is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan. It is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan.

The representation of the great nations which was the war, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan. It is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan.

There will be no longer world talk about how to keep the United States in a peace. The league is to be a peace, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan. It is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan, and it is a very simple plan.

Methods of Maintaining Peace. Since the prime object of the League of Nations is to preserve peace—and to reap the benefits of peace—we see how the league will operate to accomplish that purpose. In the first place it will seek to remove the main causes of war. It will

Used Theater Programs Cleaned.

Conservation has extended even to crumpled theater programs, left in the seats by the patron of a theater, according to Popular Mechanics Magazine. Between 200 and 300 are picked up each night, piled in stacks of 50 each, and pressed flat in a bookbinder's press for 24 hours. Emerging flat and unwrinkled from this process, they are then run through rubber rollers, which erase all fingerprints and stains. It is said that it is impossible to distinguish these reclaimed programs from those just off the printing press.

The New Version.

"Gabe Gosnell got buncoed good and plenty on his trip," related Earl Blunt of Petunia. "Aw, well," returned old Riley Eszidew, "a fool and his money go to Kansas City."—Kansas City Star.

Welcome Home Day.

"Papa," Billie asked, "is a trillion more than a billion?" "Yes," Billie was answered. "Then, papa, I'll bet there's a trillion people lookin' at the parade."

The Auto Court.

County Judge Smith established a precedent in Mineola when he held a term of the county court in his automobile. Dunn Steele, an aviator, was charged with culpable carelessness in having run down an officer with his airplane at Belmont park and was held by Justice of the Peace New for the grand jury. Judge Smith was just leaving when the defendant appeared.

TO VISIT U. S.
Lady Curzon, formerly Mrs. Alfred Durgan, known as one of the beautiful women of Ireland, is to visit her old home in America soon.

It seems that year after year the women had put up their lives into the lives of their sons until they had nearly all of them. For what? In the hope that these sons of theirs could give to the world the things for which women dream, the things for which women hope and pray and long. These were the things that the women had in their hearts when they gave birth to their sons.

The Courage of Women.
We hear our orators tell us of the courage of our men. How they went across the sea. Very few of them remember to tell us of the courage of our women, who also went across the sea; of the women who died nursing the sick and wounded; the women who died in the hospitals, where the terrible bombs came and drove them almost to madness. They tell us nothing of the forty thousand English women who went to work back of the trenches in France.

They tell us nothing of the thousands upon thousands upon thousands of women who not only toiled and worked and slaved in order that the war might be successful, but we do not hear of the thousands of women, not alone in Armenia, not alone in Montenegro, not alone in Serbia, but in Flanders, in Belgium, in Rumania, in Russia—the thousands of women who lie in graves today, murdered, so horribly murdered that men dare not speak of it.

And yet we women are asked what we know about the League of Nations; asked what we can understand about a League of Nations. Oh men! the horrible deaths; the horrible lives of thousands upon thousands of women today in all these nations, who must live, and who must look in the faces of children unweaned, undesired—of little children—and know that these are the result of war.

Women Suffer Most From War.
If there is any body of citizens in the world who ought to be interested in a league to ultimately bring to the world peace it is the mothers of men, and the women who suffered as only women can suffer in the war and in devastated countries.

We are now calling upon the men of the world to in some way or another find a passage out of the sea of death. We are asking them to form a league which will bring hope to the women of the future. If women are to bear sons only that they may die, if women may not have hope and aspirations for their children, if women may not dream the dreams that have in them the hope of the highest civilizations, the highest moral and spiritual life of the people—if women may not have these in their hearts as the mothers of men, then women will cease to desire to be the mothers of men. And why should they not? Why should they not?

Lawful nation will be supported by all the other members of the League and will not cut itself off from both business and social communication with the rest of the world.

How It Will Prevent Wars.
It is not claimed that the League of Nations will do away with war altogether. Every possible provision that human intelligence can devise will be made to settle international disputes peacefully. But should all these measures fail and two nations go to war, this is what will happen:
If both parties to the dispute have observed the rules of the League, the other nations will stand back and let them fight it out. War under such circumstances is difficult to imagine, however, because before the angry nations will be allowed to fight in accordance with the rules of the League, so much time must elapse that, in all probability, their anger will cool and they will reach an amicable understanding.
What we have to fear is that some nation will go to war in defiance of the League, and every precaution has been taken to suppress such a nation by the immediate use of the united

TITLED AMERICANS TO VISIT THE U. S.
Lady Decies, who was Vivian, daughter of George Gould, pictured on the left, was active in Red Cross work on the Rumanian front during the war and later became vice president of the American Red Cross Care Committee. Princess Antoine Albert Radziwill, who was Miss Dorothy Deacon of Boston, was forced to flee from the historic residence at Niewiesy in Poland during the war. She was afterward engaged in war work in England.

Doing the World's Work.
In addition to settling international disputes peacefully, the League of Nations will provide means for doing much of the world's work more systematically and effectively than can be done now when each nation is working only for itself. The people you know best and like best are those who work with you on the same job. It will be the same way with the nations of the future. The more they work together, the sooner they will come to understand and like each other.

Great Gain for Small Loss.
We had to make many sacrifices to win the war, and we made them willingly because we knew they were worth while. If we could spend a smaller degree of our strength and resources to keep the peace, we could have a greater gain. When we were at the height of our power, we were able to do more for the world than we are now. If we could only keep our strength, we could do more for the world than we are now.

LEADING EDUCATORS KEEN FOR THRIFT
School and College Heads in Favor Making it Definite Course of Study.
The cornerstone of future national thrift will be thrift study in the schools and colleges of America. The government is requiring all educational institutions to make it as a definite part of a curriculum and education of leaders and supporting this plan.
Four largely acknowledged leaders were recently held in discussion at which school and college heads pledged cooperation. Regular studies in thrift and the making of studies in the schools and colleges by students or government, that securities were advised. New Jersey has already put this study into practice and Delaware has followed it. Such leading educators as J. George Bell, Deputy Secretary of Public Instruction, Dr. J. H. Aldrich, President of Franklin College, and Dr. J. H. Aldrich, President of Franklin College, are among the leaders who are supporting this plan.

Mrs. Julia Kohler, whose death was briefly reported in our last issue, died Sept. 7 at her home in Littlestown in her 72nd year. She was a daughter of the late Jacob and Mary Hartman. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. She leaves two brothers, R. A. Hartman and Jacob Hartman, of Littlestown, and three step-children, Mrs. Wm. Beiler, of Mt. Joy township, Ira Kohler, of Texas, and William Kohler, of York.

Besides her husband there survive four children: Daniel, Victor and Albert Benchoff, at home, and Mrs. Lulu Watson, of Iron Springs, Adams county. The funeral was on Thursday with services and interment at the Methodist Church at Fountaindale.

"Gettysburg for the Motorist."

The Lincoln Highway Association is putting out a booklet with the above title, and promotes it with the following announcement:

"It is said that the number of automobile tourists who visit the Gettysburg battlefield now exceeds the number engaged on both sides there on July 1, 2 and 3, 1863. In fact, the armies of Meade and Lee were drawn to that little inland Pennsylvania town principally because it was the convergent point for so many thoroughfares.

"This marking the high tide of the democracy and the scene of the greatest battle fought on American soil, Gettysburg will always be a Mecca for American tourists. Road makers have the best means for observing the topographical features of the surrounding country, as well as the battle area itself. But in order to make the trip thoroughly interesting and enjoyable, the reference data could be prepared from the special viewpoint of the tourist, and made available in convenient inexpensive form. This has been done in the 32-page brochure which includes a map of Gettysburg and describes the important military movements leading up to the engagement.

"Gettysburg for the Motorist" has been prepared by and may be ordered from Robert Bruce, Clinton, Oneida county, N. Y., as one of a series of articles concerning the important historical points along the Lincoln Highway between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

"Gettysburg is the division point on the Lincoln Highway for tourists traffic headed east and south for Washington and Baltimore. It was the point at which the Government transcontinental convoy struck the Lincoln Highway for its western run to San Francisco.

"Lincoln Highway tourists following the route in Pennsylvania and proposing a visit at the battlefield should secure a copy of 'Gettysburg for the Motorist' from Mr. Bruce or direct from the Lincoln Highway Association."

You Helped the Nation NOW HELP THE TOWN!

When Uncle Sam needed money and sold Liberty and Victory Bonds, Adams County people responded nobly. They got a safe investment, with 3 1-2 to 4 1-4 per cent. interest, besides helping a good cause.

Now the Eagle Silk Company offers Gettysburg an opportunity to secure a first class manufacturing plant. They want to sell $85,000 worth of bonds, not to banks, but individuals, in order to guarantee the community interest in their work. The Eagle company is rated in net worth at MORE than $1,000,000. Conservative estimates place it at $5,000,000. The bonds offered are in denominations of $500, and bear 6 per cent. interest. The Gettysburg Chamber of Commerce recommends them, its members have bought bonds, and the banks will tell you the security is good.

Your help is needed to raise this amount. Consult your bank and then talk it over with an official of the Chamber of Commerce. He will tell you how payments may be made.

An Exhibit of Fashion Autumn Suits Coats and Dresses

In Dresses--In Silks, Satins, Serges, Tricotines, and Jerseys

The curtain rises upon an ingathering of fashion that omits nothing that could be desired. It is a most comprehensive assemblage of fashionable garments from the country's foremost designers.

Every new style, touch and smartest of development--stand out in attractiveness in these New Dresses.

Then too these September days call for Smart Separate Skirts, in which we have the Newest Style interpretations.

Consider the Suits
$25 to $100

In introducing suits, we emphasize the quality of the cloths to which we have given our usual careful attention, as well as the tailoring that lifts even the plainest suit to the point of elegance. Each suit has been cut and sized with correctness, insuring accurate fit and distinction of line.

Consider the Coats
$20 to $95.00

Examine the fabrics closely, for upon them depends the beauty and grace of an autumn coat--note how supple, how delightfully they lend themselves to the buoyant lines of the Season's approved fashions. The inspiration of genius is shown in the diverse and original conceptions of collars, belts, pockets and finishing embellishments.

Don't Waste PAPER

Keep a paper receptacle somewhere about the place. Throw waste paper and newspapers into it--don't burn or destroy the old paper. Save it until you have several hundred pounds and then bring it to my place and get cash for it.

Magazines are valuable

They are worth more than ordinary paper. Tie them in bundles and bring them along to town. We can pay a few cents more for paper and magazines if brought here than if it is necessary to send for them. Throw the bundle in the wagon and drive around to

VEINER'S 217 N. Stratton Street

He will treat you right.

MR. ORCHARDIST

Maybe your orchard doesn't get wet with dew in the night, and doesn't get you cold and wet in the mornings before the sun gets busy. But if it does--here's the remedy--A pair of overboots. A light weight rubber boot to be worn OVER the ordinary leather shoe. Protects the leg to the knee, and buckles right below it to keep the top up When the sun gets up and dries the grass, jerk them off, roll them up, and put them in your pocket--they weigh only 2 1-2 lbs. a pair. Ask to see them the next time you are in town--$
